

I frequently travel and have an XM radio with me where ever I go. Whenever I'm in a city that XM offers traffic and weather, one of the first things I do is turn on my radio to the traffic station and get the latest before leaving the airport. It's always nice to get an updated weather forecast after being on a plane for a few hours too.

XM has over a million subscribers and I'm sure I'm not one in a million who appreciates this traffic and weather setup that XM has.
